

Between the Lines

with Martin C. Winer

... seeing through the media you view

Dr Donald N. Yates

Dr Donald N. Yates

Donald N. Yates, Ph.D. is principal investigator, owner and founder of DNA Testing Systems. He is Choctaw-Cherokee and has a doctorate in classical studies from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Contributing to his expertise is a lifelong interest in genealogy research plus a 10-year position at the biotechnology company Miles Laboratories (now Bayer Corp.). He has published widely in medieval history and Native American studies. His books include The Bear Went over the Mountain and When Scotland Was Jewish (with Elizabeth C. Hirschman).

Los Lunas Decalogue Stone

- A stone in Los Lunas, New Mexico which bears a Phoenician (ancient Hebrew) inscription of the Ten Commandments (The Decalogue). The stone was first translated by Dr. Robert Pfeiffer of Harvard in 1949 and was confirmed to be a slightly truncated form of the Ten Commandments.

LOVE AND PEACE
TO ALL WHO SEEK THE LIGHT OF TRUTH
AND WISDOM
IN THE
HEART
OF
THE UNIVERSE
AND
IN THE HEART
OF
THE HUMAN SPIRIT
AMEN

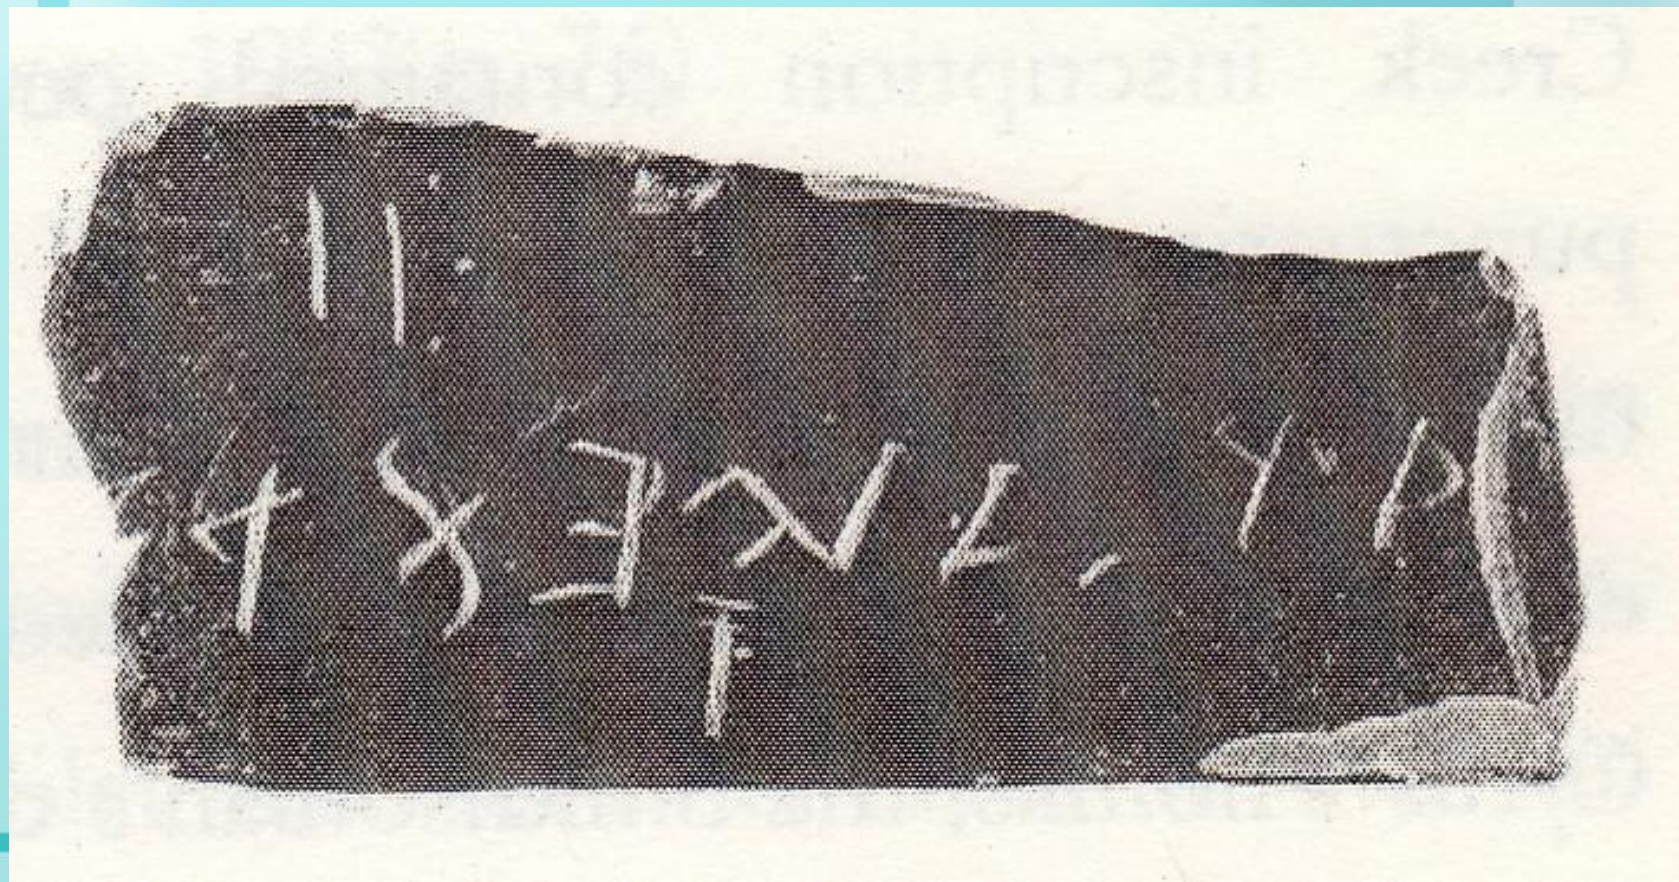

Dr Cyrus Gordon

- Dr. Cyrus Gordon head of the Department of Mediterranean Studies at Brandeis University (1956-1974) and an expert in ancient Semitic languages wrote:
- “We are not dealing with a modern forgery. It has been there as far back as the local inhabitants (Indian as well as White) knew. The Whites have witnessed it since about 1800. The Indians call the place “The Cliff of the Strange Writings””.

The Bat Creek Stone

ל יחוד RQ L'YHWD, רק

("comet for the Jews" – Bar Kochba revolt slogan)

Popul Vuh – Torah Similarities

Comparison / Transliteration:

Mayan: CHOLOCHIC ABAH BOCO TAHINAC ZANAIEB

Hebrew: חֶלֶק אֶךְ אָבָה בַּקַּע תַּהֵם אֶךְ צֵעוֹן אֵב

Phonetic: kalak-ak aw-bah bo-ko' teh-hom'-ak tzeh-on-ab

Meaning: SURELY (the) SEA DIVIDED [becoming smooth as stones to walk upon], IT WILLINGLY OPENED, TRULY (the) FATHER (s) MIGRATED (crossed).

Comparison / Transliteration:

Mayan: KUKULCAN

Hebrew: חֶקֶל אֵל כְּהֵן

Phonetic: Khuquq -el -Khan

Meaning: LAWGIVING HIGH PRIEST

Comparison / Transliteration:

Mayan: CHICHEN ITZA

Hebrew: שֶׁשֶׁן יִצָּא

Phonetic: Sheshen-Ytza

Meaning: JOYOUSLY BROUGHT FORTH

Mayan: ITZA CHICHEN

Hebrew: יִצָּא עַם בְּשִׂשׁוֹן (Psalm 105:43)

Meaning: "AND HE BROUGHT FORTH HIS PEOPLE WITH JOY."

Tacos and Manna

TIC-OJ

Mayan Account:

The Popol Vuh continues: after leaving the Mountain of command they wandered without food subsisting on roots for a time being troubled and disgusted with the place - Popol Vuh p. 71. In another Mayan Titulo the "Titulo C'oyoi," the fathers ate "Tic-oj" (tacos) an otherwise undefined food. - Quichean Civilization, Carkack p. 288

"Tic-oj" food grudgingly eaten by the forefathers.

HEBREW	MEANING	JAMES STRONG'S HEBREW LEXICON
תכה (ta -ka)	strewn	(8497)
עשה (aw-sah)	feast	(6213)
אות (oth)	miracle	(226)

Comparison / Transliteration:

Mayan: TIC-OJ

Hebrew: תכה עשה תכה אות

Phonetic: ta -ka-sah -- ta -k -oth

Meaning: STREWN FEAST, STREWN MIRACLE

After Fourty Years - Canaan

KUKULCÁN, CHICHEN ITZÁ, TULÁN, & JO BALAM K'ANA.
Mayan Account:

Under, "a leader named 'Kukulcán'...after forty years of wandering they finally reached Chichén Itzá" - Popol Vuh, p. 67.

After crossing the sea, on foot, other Mayan accounts claim that they arrived in the fabled land of "Tulán" (ibid p. 63 and Annals of the Cakchiquels, p 45), also called Hacavitz and "Jo Balam K'ana." - Quechean Civilization p. 289.

It is this name "K'ana" that is of interest here. K'ana is the correct, Hebrew name for Palestine, otherwise known as the "Land of Kanaan." The details are found later in this work. Kana is the prime root.

*See... The Nexus Spoken Language:
The Link Between the Mayan and Semitic,
During Pre-Columbian Times : David Allen Deal*

Flag of Mexico

Flag of Mexico

Tamale – A Blintze

Tamale: a traditional Mexican food made of corn meal with meat stuffing.

Azteca	Meaning	Hebrew (phonetic)	Meaning	#
Tamale (ibid , p. 70)	Aztec food	תא מלא (tah male)	little chamber ... filled, be full	(8372) (4390)

America

Mayan: Amerik-a

Hebrew: אֲמֵר רִיק

Meaning: MOUNTAIN WILDERNESS

- Next, the name 'America': Conventional history holds that the name was inspired by Amerigo Vespucci; not so says Deal. When the Spanish crew of Columbus' fourth voyage was coasting Nicaragua, they invited some Mayan natives aboard. The crew asked the Maya the name of the place as they motioned to the mountain tops. The Maya assumed they were referring only to the mountain tops and answered "Amerik". They Hispanized the name exchanging a 'c' for a 'k' and adding 'a'. It has been America ever since. But Amerik has a Hebrew origin. 'Ameer Rik': summit of a mountain, emptiness.

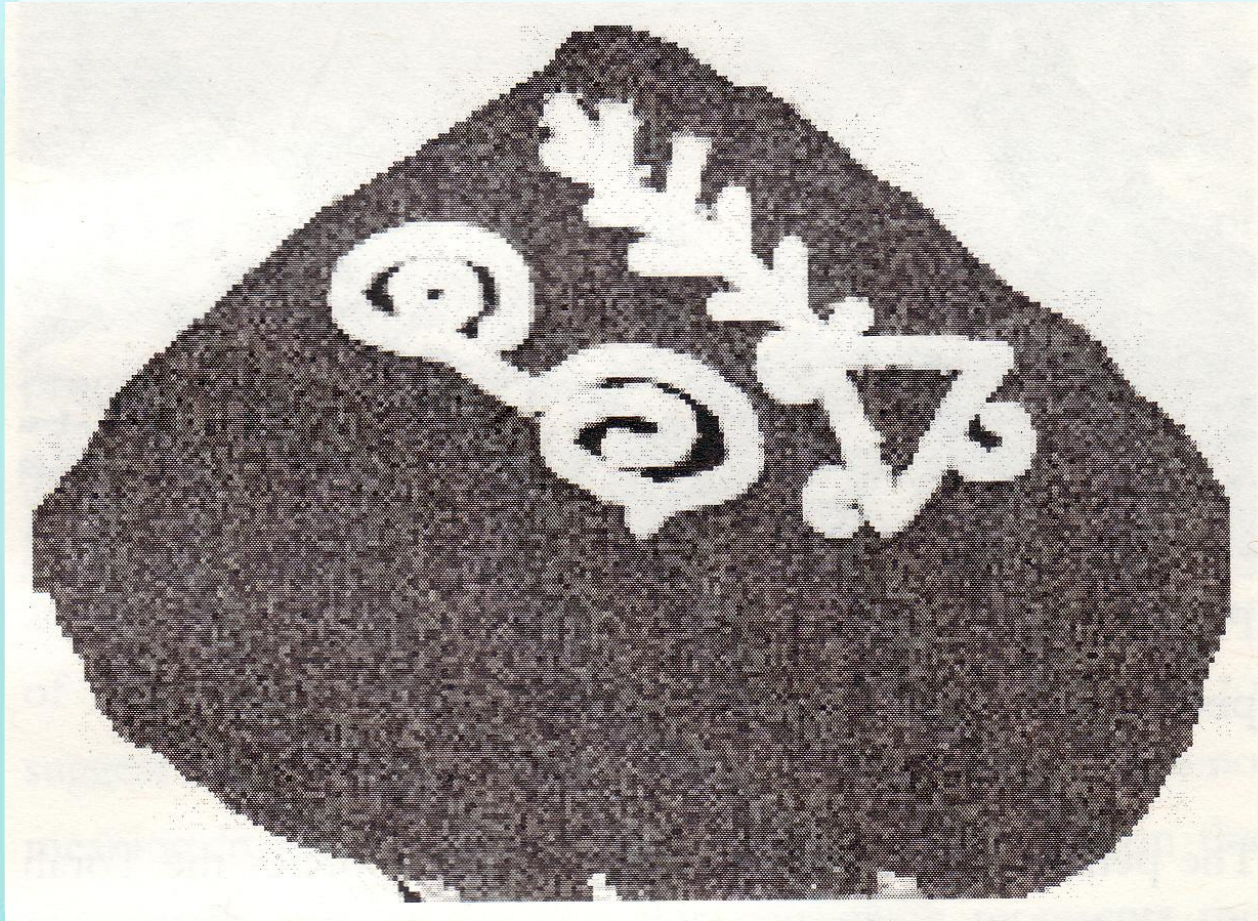

Ma'agan Michael Ship

The Ma'agan
Michael Ship c.400BC

Plan of the Ma'agan-Michael wreck (Yak Kahanov).

Kabalistic Symbols Near Los Lunas

Petroglyph near the Los Lunas Decalogue Stone depicting the Torah, 'Merkabah' and 'Sefirot'

Effect of View on Research

Type of Researcher	Odds the Tomb was Jesus'
A historian with strict Christian beliefs, believing Jesus ascended to heaven	impossible (there would be no tomb with remains if Jesus ascended to heaven)
A historian leaning against the tomb being Jesus' tomb	1:5,000,000
A 'typical' historian	1:19,000
A historian leaning towards the tomb Jesus' tomb	1:1,100
A historian who desperately wanted the tomb to be Jesus' tomb	1:18

Diffusionism vs Isolationism

- “The Vatican has been long accused of keeping artifacts and ancient books in their vast cellars, without allowing the outside world access to them. ... Sadly, there is overwhelming evidence that something very similar is happening with the Smithsonian Institution. The Smithsonian [, under Major John Wesley Powell,] began to promote the idea that Native Americans, at that time being exterminated in the Indian Wars, were descended from advanced civilizations and were worthy of respect and protection. They also began a program of suppressing any archaeological evidence that lent credence to the school of thought known as Diffusionism, a school which believes that throughout history there has been widespread dispersion of culture and civilization via contact by ship and major trade routes. The Smithsonian opted for the opposite school, known as Isolationism. Isolationism holds that most civilizations are isolated from each other and that there has been very little contact between them, especially those that are separated by bodies of water. In this intellectual war that started in the 1880s, it was held that even contact between the civilizations of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys were rare...”
- Jonathan Eisen, Suppressed Inventions, Berkley Trade, p 215

Benedict Arias Montanus (1500's)

